

9th Annual IBD and VEO-IBD Symposium: Advancing Precision Medicine in Pediatric Inflammatory Bowel Disease

Friday, April 17, 2026

The Auditorium at the HUB
for Clinical Collaboration

Course Overview

During this one-day live course hosted both in-person and virtually, experts from Children's Hospital of Philadelphia, the Division of Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition; Center for Pediatric Inflammatory Bowel Disease (IBD); and Very Early Onset (VEO) IBD Program will present:

- The latest developments and discoveries in research and clinical care for patients with pediatric IBD and VEO-IBD
- An in-depth look at today's cutting-edge diagnostic tools and therapeutics
- Interactive panel discussions and case presentations

This professional development activity is designed for pediatric gastroenterologists, general pediatricians, researchers, fellows, residents, advanced practice providers, nurses and other healthcare professionals.
