Nurses with congenital heart defects need surgery very specialized care. Understanding the unique needs of these babies is imperative throughout the perioperative period. Advances in prenatal diagnosis and treatment have allowed us to plan and anticipate the needs of these complex patients before and after birth. This two-day conference will provide continuing education on exciting and innovative care of the surgical neonate from prenatal diagnosis to postnatal management. The presentations will address topics spanning from the prenatal care of infants to post-discharge care coordination. The conference is directed toward nurses, advanced practice nurses and other medical staff who care for the neonatal surgical population.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The symposium will be held at Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia’s Ruth and Tristram Colket, Jr. Translational Research Building.

The two-day registration fee is $200. The registration fee includes continental breakfast, breaks, lunch and course materials.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

1. Upon completion of this course, participants should be able to:

- Identify surgical diagnoses and candidates for minimally invasive surgery
- Describe a multidisciplinary approach for patient management of surgical anomalies
- Describe the impact on post-discharge follow-up with provider-to-provider transition utilizing telemedicine
- Differentiate between various airway anomalies and identify treatment modalities

NURSING ACCREDITATION

Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia is an approved provider of continuing nursing education by the Pennsylvania State Nurses Association, an approved accreditor by the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation.
