COURSE OVERVIEW

Providing effective education for nurses in the current healthcare climate can be challenging. Nursing professional development is a dynamic field that must respond to the ever-changing education needs of nurses throughout their career. High-quality professional development opportunities promote quality patient care and provide nurses with the knowledge and skills they need to be successful and confident in their work.

This one-day conference is directed toward novice and experienced nursing professional development specialists, nurse planners, clinical educators, orientation coordinators, preceptors, and nurses interested in education and professional development. It provides an opportunity to enhance your ability to transition new nurses to practice, design effective orientation programs, engage learners and measure outcomes.

Don't miss our keynote speaker, Donna Wright MS, RN, who will speak on competency and accountability of staff and educators!

GENERAL INFORMATION

The conference will be held on the first floor of the Ruth and Tristram Colket, Jr. Translational Research Building on the Raymond G. Perelman Campus. The registration fee includes buffet breakfast, breaks, lunch and parking. As part of our going green initiative, syllabus material will not be distributed at the conference, but will be available online up to one week prior and two weeks following the conference.

CONFERENCE REGISTRATION FEES

Before Saturday, Sept. 15..... $125

After Saturday, Sept. 15..... $150

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this course, participants should be able to:

1. Describe strategies to engage the learner with the use of technology
2. Describe how to design creative educational programs to meet the varied needs of an organization
3. Discuss methods to assess competency
