Hybrid Conference

chop.cloud-cme.com

Course Information

This one-day conference for hearing healthcare professionals will address the importance of family-centered and inclusive care of children across the developmental spectrum. Presenters in child development, behavioral psychology, and other areas of clinical care will share research, best practice guidelines, and outcomes of patients with and without hearing loss. Case studies highlighting how hearing healthcare providers can foster inclusive care will also be discussed.

General Information

Attendees have the option of attending the hybrid conference at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia or virtually.

Registration

Professionals..... $100

Students..... $70

In-person registration includes continental breakfast, lunch, and parking.

Course Objectives

- Define inclusive care and its relation to families of children with and without hearing loss
- List three indicators of neurodiversity and identify when to refer for an evaluation
- Describe two strategies that can be used to increase patient comfort during appointments
- Identify three stakeholders when forming interdisciplinary teams for children with hearing loss and developmental delays
- Describe how inclusive and family-centered care improves longitudinal outcomes of children with hearing loss
