

CHOP's Qualitative Studio

October 24, 2023

Join this one-day, in-person professional development event with internationally renowned qualitative researchers:

Abby Konopasky, PhD
Dartmouth University, USA

Renée Stalmeijer, PhD
Maastricht University, Netherlands

This educational event supports intermediate and advanced level researchers via a full-day of hands-on workshops and discussions that will enhance the knowledge and skills of our community members.

In this offering, we focus on:

Making Theory Work for You – Using Theory in Qualitative Research

Participants will engage in discussions and application activities to deepen their understanding of theory and its application to qualitative research. Through a combination of didactic presentations from expert qualitative researchers and through small-group activities, participants will work with a variety of theories, applying what they have learned both to cases and their own research.

Registration Fees: $250 for CHOP/Penn Community Members
 $100 for CHOP/Penn Learners (including fellows)
 $450 for External Participants
